

Plans are prepared to meet prevailing local building practices used with Harbour Towne Construction's standard construction procedures. Anyone using these drawings should field verify all dimensions and conditions before construction. Use of these plans and/or specifications by others releases and relieves Harbour Towne Construction from any liability for the use thereof.